

ROBERT GAAG has been promoted to the position of Vice President Corporate Sales EUMEA. As of October 2015, he will take over this responsibility from Wolfgang Weynell, who held this position together with the office of SVP Corporate Sales & Marketing. With a Master's Degree in Aeronautical Engineering from the Technical University of Munich, Robert Gaag started his career as Project Engineer for MTU Munich in 1986. He joined Lufthansa in 1989 as Project Manager in the aircraft/engine evaluation team in Hamburg. After an assignment as Resident Representative for Lufthansa at the Boeing Company in Seattle, he returned to the Technical Directorate of Lufthansa Passenger Airline Services in Hamburg in 1995 as Boeing 747 Fleet Manager.

Robert Gaag joined Lufthansa Technik in 2000 as Manager Key Accounts Lufthansa Group before he was assigned the position of Sales Director Central Europe in June 2002. Before his latest promotion he served as Vice President Sales North America.

SAHIB AJJAM

has been appointed Regional Director Sales North America, succeeding Robert Gaag. Effective October 1, Sahib Ajjam will be leading Lufthansa Technik's sales activities in the USA and Canada together with his team in Miami and the affiliated sales organization in North America.

Sahib Ajjam possesses a wealth of MRO experience. After earning a degree in mechanical engineering at the University of Braunschweig, Germany, he started his career as a Key Account Manager for Schott Glass in 1994. He joined Lufthansa Technik in 1996, working as a project engineer in the engine MRO division. Further responsible positions with Lufthansa Technik included Project Director Airbus A318 Elite, Director of Narrowbody VIP-Programs and, since 2008, Director of Aircraft Maintenance Munich.

THOMAS KUHN has been named new President and CEO of BizJet International. He succeeds Manfred Gärtner, who has been leading BizJet International since 2013. Thomas Kuhn studied aeronautics and completed his education with a diploma. In 1989 he joined Lufthansa Technik, holding various management functions during the following years. In 2008, Kuhn became Sub-Division Manager Overhaul at Ameco Beijing, the Lufthansa joint venture with Air China. Prior to his latest promotion, Thomas Kuhn served as Director Engineering Services in Lufthansa Technik's VIP & Executive Jet Maintenance Business Unit in Hamburg.

HOLGER BECK has been appointed Director Business Development, Sales and Customer Services of Lufthansa Technik Maintenance International (LTMI).

Holger Beck is an electronics engineer, holds a Master's degree in Technical Management and a Senior degree in Airline Management. Since joining Lufthansa Technik in 1989 he has held numerous responsible positions, among them Managing Director at Lufthansa LAN Technical Training in Chile and General Manager at Lufthansa Technical Training Philippines. Prior to his latest promotion he was Director Finance and Key Account Management at Lufthansa Technik Maintenance International.

ANDREAS VAN DE KUIL has taken over the position of Chief Executive Officer (CEO) at Lufthansa Technik Vostok Services in Moscow effective September 1, 2015. Andreas van de Kuil studied at the Northeastern University, Boston and the European School of Business (ESB Reutlingen), where he acquired a Master in International Business Administration. He joined the Lufthansa Technik sales team in 2009 as Project Manager Sales Support. Before being promoted to his current position, he served as General Sales Manager Russia & CIS located in Moscow.

SANDRA ECKSTEIN has taken over the position of Managing Director of Lufthansa Technik Landing Gear Services in London, UK.

Sandra Eckstein can look back on more than a decade of experience in aviation, launching her career at Lufthansa CityLine. With numerous trainings in project management, leadership competence and others she soon acquired responsible management positions. She joined Lufthansa Technik in 2007, working in Strategy and Product Management, as team leader Key Account Management and as manager contract controlling. In 2013 Sandra Eckstein was given the responsibility of CFO of Lufthansa Technik Landing Gear Services UK Ltd, the position she held before being promoted to her current field of work.

CHRISTIAN LANGER

has been appointed as Managing Director of Lufthansa Technik Logistik Services (LTLS) with effect from September 1, 2015.

Christian Langer has earned a PhD from the WHU – Otto Beisheim School of Management and a Master's Degree in Computer Science from the University of Koblenz. He joined Lufthansa Technik in 2004, being responsible for the introduction of lean production principles in the Aircraft Maintenance Division in Frankfurt. In October 2007 he was appointed as Head of Lean Production Management for the Lufthansa Technik Group. In 2012 he additionally took over responsibility for a restructuring project of the administrative body of Lufthansa Technik. Since July 2013, Christian Langer has been Managing Director of Lumics, the joint venture between Lufthansa Technik and McKinsey & Company.